

FREAK BLIZZARD RETURNED TO CHICAGO THIS MORN

AMBOY WOMAN'S CLUB HOSTESSES TO CANDIDATES

Mud-Slinging Absent In Every Case Except One Last Night

The March blizzard failed to prevent many of the candidates for state, national and county offices being in attendance at the meeting sponsored by the Amboy Woman's Club last evening and a generous attendance was present to hear the candidates present their platforms and arguments. A few office-seekers who were unable to attend because of the storm, sent their regrets, which were read; and with one exception the program was devoid of "mud-slinging" and the candidates briefly expressed their stand on important questions of the day, announced their platforms and were heartily received.

The supper and meeting was held in the parlors of the Congregational church and after partaking of a generous repast, Mrs. D. L. Brame called the meeting to order and presided during the evening, introducing the various candidates and reading messages of regret from those who were storm bound or for other reasons, were unable to be present.

Welcomed By Mayor.
The chairman called upon Mayor Fred Vaughan, who welcomed the candidates to Amboy. A letter of regret was read by the chairman coming from I. J. Brown of Chicago, candidate for State Treasurer, who was unable to be in attendance.

Robert W. McKinlay, Jr., of Chicago, son of a candidate for the office of Congressman-at-Large, was the first speaker on the program. In announcing the platform of his father, the speaker said:

"Prohibition as a noble experiment, has been a failure, and Mr. McKinlay is not seeking the votes of those who still believe that prohibition is a success."

William Teese representing Frank L. Smith, candidate for the office of Congressman-at-Large, spoke briefly and said that Mr. Smith had given more to his party and received less than any Illinois Republican.

The chairman read a letter from Ellis S. Cook of Chicago, candidate for Congressman-at-Large, outlining his platform and expressing his regret at not being able to attend the Amboy meeting.

Wright Made Nice Talk.
Senator Harry G. Wright of DeKalb was the next speaker to be called upon and received an enthusiastic ovation. The Senator briefly outlined his activity during his past terms in office as representative of this district. He reviewed his stand on the reforming of the junketing committees of the Senate, and of his continued stand to reduce the appropriations and taxation. He told his listeners that he had been very considerate of all bills pertaining to agriculture and the ex-service men. He called attention to unsigned campaign articles which had appeared in the district and explained his opposition to the re-apportionment bill. During his tenure in office, Senator Wright stated, he had been absent but one day in the ten years of his service when the Senate was in session. Senator Wright asked to be excused after his short talk that he might keep another engagement.

Dixon Starts Mudslinging.

George C. Dixon of Dixon, candidate from this district for the Senate was the next speaker introduced. At the outset of the program, Chairman Mrs. Brame announced that all speakers exceeding 15 minutes in presenting their causes would be halted by the ringing of the bell and the Dixon speaker was the only one to come under this ruling, the bell being rung twice before he concluded his remarks. Mr. Dixon devoted the greater part of his time in assailing the Dixon Evening Telegraph and Geo. B. Shaw, its editor, then launched into another assault against Senator Wright and concluded with a brief statement of his policies. If elected, he assured the voters of Lee county that there would be no payrollers from Lee county if it were possible to keep them off the roll.

Whiteside Co. Men

Henry Allen of Lyndon, representative in the legislature and candidate for re-election reviewed his activities and outlined the important committees of which he is a member and stated that he had no apologies to offer for his record in office. He concluded by stating that he was opposed to the re-apportionment bill and had voted dry at Springfield.

George S. Brydia of Prophetstown, candidate for the legislature, stated that he had served his home city as mayor for six consecutive terms. He told his listeners that he opposed the building of state highways for tourists but for those residents of the state who paid the gasoline and other taxes.

FEDERAL AGENT HELD ON CHARGE OF DUEL-MURDER

Witness In Former Dry Trial And Deputy Staged Battle

BULLETIN
Washington, March 26—(AP)—E. S. Chapman, Deputy Prohibition Administrator for Northern Mississippi, will be suspended at once because of his shooting of J. L. Doggett, lumberman and planter, it was said today by Prohibition Commissioner Doran.
The Commissioner said that an immediate investigation would be made, and prompt action taken as soon as a report was received.
From press reports, the Commissioner said, it appeared that "Chapman and Doggett fought a duel, which in itself is a crime, and the Deputy Administrator will be suspended immediately."
"Dueling is out of date," he added.

Clarksdale, Miss., March 26—(UP)—E. S. Chapman, Deputy Federal Prohibition Administrator for the Northern District of Mississippi, was under arrest here today charged with the murder of J. L. Doggett, 57-year-old planter.

The federal agent and Doggett met on a main street here yesterday, the duel following.
According to Sheriff Lee Matthews the two men had been bitter enemies since the trial of A. B. Brister, prohibition agent, last January on a charge of possession and sale of liquor. Doggett testified for the prosecution in the trial, which ended with Brister's acquittal.

Eye-witnesses to the shooting said Doggett and Chapman argued bitterly when they met yesterday. Doggett allegedly slapped the federal agent, and then both stepped back a few paces and drew pistols.
Doggett was hit by three bullets. One entered his stomach, the others his legs.

Attorneys for the federal agent said today Chapman claimed he fired in self-defense. Two bullets from Doggett's gun passed through the federal man's coat, but he was not wounded.

BOSTON CLUB RAIDED

Boston, March 26—(UP)—Several federal prohibition agents and a dozen or more guests suffered bruises in a melee that resulted when the Cotton Club, described by police as Boston's most notorious night club, was raided today.
Dishes, food, bottles and cases served as ammunition in a battle between 50 guests and 10 dry agents. A riotous scene prevailed for several minutes after the surprise entrance of the raiders while hilarity at the Cotton Club was at its height.

Not until police arrived, separated women guests and joined the federal officers in battling the men patrons, was the disturbance quelled.
Five arrests were made and a quantity of alleged liquor and the club's membership roster were confiscated.

Youth Admits Death Of Sister Tuesday

Chicago, March 26—(UP)—Joe Portuguese, 18, confessed to police today that he killed his sister, Mary, while she slept because she rebuked him for spying on her.
Mary's body was found in bed yesterday, her skull crushed and a bullet wound through the temple. A note was found nearby which tended to indicate she had committed suicide. The youth told police he wrote the note.

He said his sister caught him peeping into her room and he became enraged. He obtained a pistol from his father's trunk, beat the girl over the head and then shot her, according to the confession.
Murder charges have been filed.

Couple Married On Highway In Blizzard

Pana, Ill., March 26—(AP)—Miss Mary Askins of Moulton, Ill., and Henry Thompson of Shelbyville, Ill., accompanied by the Rev. R. E. Blankenship of Shelbyville, drove to a spot one mile east of Pana in a snowstorm last night and were married in their automobile on the highway. The object was to insure secrecy, but friends told about it today.

NUTT ISSUES DENIAL

Cleveland, Ohio, March 26—(AP)—Joseph R. Nutt, treasurer of the Republican National Committee, denied flatly today that he is under consideration for selection as Secretary of the United States Treasury or for chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Yesterday, Nutt resigned as president of the Union Trust Company; here but continued as Chairman of the bank's Board of Directors.

PARK ON RIVER BANK IS NAMED "HOWELL PARK"

Late President Of City Park Board Honored By City Council

President Louis Pitcher of the Dixon park board appeared before the city council at its regular weekly session last evening and presented the draft of an ordinance which provided for the naming of the city park along the north bank of Rock river between Galena and Jefferson avenues, Howell park. Commissioner Charles E. Miller moved the adoption of the ordinance which met with the unanimous approval of the council. The ordinance as presented follows:

Whereas, In the recent death of Edward N. Howell, president of the Dixon Park Board, Dixon lost a most useful citizen and one whose zeal, public spirit and foresight had much to do with the creation of the park system of the City of Dixon and desiring to honor said Edward N. Howell for his twenty-five years of unselfish and untiring efforts as a member and president of said Dixon Park Board.

Be it ordained by the Council of the City of Dixon, Illinois:

Section 1. That the public park in the City of Dixon lying contiguous to the north shore of Rock River and between North Galena avenue and North Jefferson avenue be named Howell Park in honor of Edward N. Howell, who at the time of his death was president of the Dixon Park Board.

Section 2. That the Dixon Park Board be and it is hereby authorized and directed to erect in said Howell Park a suitable marker or memorial designating its name and the reason therefor.

$100,000,000 FOR FARM BOARD IS GIVEN APPROVAL

President Today Signed Bill Appropriating Big Amount

Washington, March 26—(UP)—President Hoover today signed the first deficiency bill carrying $169,500,000 for the government expenditures. The largest item in the bill is $100,000,000 for the Federal Farm Board. The money is to be made available for immediate use.

The measure also carries $6,000,000 for seed and fertilizer loans to farmers in drought and flood-ridden states of the west and south and $1,600,000 for reconstruction of roads and bridges damaged by the flood in Alabama. The Farm Board appropriation goes into the board's revolving fund for its current program.

An item of $3,000,000 for Porto Rican hurricane relief was stricken from the bill before it reached the President. Increases for construction of federal buildings at Boston and Denver were also removed by the House.

The measure provides an additional $150,000 to defray expenses of the American delegation to the London naval conference.

Others items in the bill, relatively small, are divided among the various government departments and bureaus for current running expenses.

Woman Had Liquor Under Long Skirt

Steuersville, O., March 26—(UP)—Long dresses, although returning to fashion, are still unusual enough to excite suspicion. Mrs. Samuel Courcy had learned this today—at considerable expense.

State Prohibition Inspector W. L. Lewis stopped the auto in which she and her husband were traveling. A search of the car revealed no liquor, but Mrs. Courcy's costume was interesting.

Curiosity overcame the Inspector's natural gallantry and beneath the woman's ankle length dress he found a five-gallon jug of whisky. She was fined $400 and her mate $600.

Pursuit Planes Are Forced Back By Storm

Mt. Clemens, Mich., March 26—(UP)—Bad weather, encountered before the flight passed out of Michigan today, caused Major Ralph Royce, Commander of the First Pursuit Group, to lead his 22 pursuit planes back to Selfridge Field after a takeoff for Chanute Field, Rantoul, Ill., had been made.

Major Royce said the start for Sacramento, where the group will engage in mimic war maneuvers, will be made tomorrow morning. Two transport planes, which started earlier this morning, did not return.

TARIFF VETO URGED

Washington, March 26—(AP)—President Hoover was urged today by John E. Edgerton, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, to veto the tariff bill just passed by the Senate if after conference it provides less flexibility of administration than the law of 1922.

Carried Baby Back Into Burning House

Tulsa, Okla., March 26—(AP)—When fire last night destroyed the home here of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Page, a five-year-old of the household carried John William Page, 11-month-old baby, outside to safety.
Then a three-year-old sister of the children carried the baby back inside the flaming house and tucked him in his crib. The infant was burned to death.
The sister explained she thought it was "too cold" for the baby outdoors.

ALTON MAN BACK HOME DENIES HE WAS KIDNAPPED

Says He Was Absent On One Of His "Periodical Parties"

Alton, Ill., March 26—(AP)—Charles Conley, wealthy Alton bookmaker and billiard hall proprietor who disappeared Monday night and was reported kidnapped by extortionists and held for ransom, returned home early today with an explanation that he had been absent on "one of my periodical parties."

He made no further explanation of his absence and when questioned concerning the "party," he said he did not regard it as being anyone's business.

Conley denied reports current here yesterday that he had been kidnapped and held for $60,000 ransom. He remarked that if he were held for that much money "they would have to hold me a long time." Adding that he had no such sum of money available.

Conley was not harassed. He looked fresh and was smiling when inquired of his whereabouts.

He gave the same explanation to police that he gave to newspaper men and authorities who made a searching investigation yesterday on the theory that he had been kidnapped, did not indicate whether the investigation would be carried further.

Wife Heard Him

Conley returned to his home about 5:30 A. M. He tried to slip into bed without arousing members of his family, but his wife heard him, he said.

The bookmaker disappeared from his pool room late Monday night, a short time before he was to have closed the establishment for the night. Police were told that three men were seen to leave the place, enter a car and drive away. When Conley's nephew arrived a few minutes later to escort him home, he found the establishment open but deserted.

Extortionists have kidnapped five persons in the St. Louis district in recent months and are reported to have obtained more than $100,000 in ransoms. It is known that Conley had expressed fear he would be kidnapped.

Oldest Ice Box In Dixon On Display

The oldest refrigerator in this vicinity is being shown in the display window of the Mellett furniture store, marking the close of a contest. The ice box on display is the property of Miss Mary Morgan, librarian at the Dixon public library and is said to be the oldest refrigerator in northern Illinois. The late Col. Thomas Morgan, father of Miss Morgan, purchased the ice box in August, 1965 at Warsaw, Ind., and brought it to Dixon with the other household effects when the family came to this city to reside.

The refrigerator is built of heavy pine and is in a fine state of preservation. The insulation is charcoal, which was one of the first materials used in ice preserving. It has been in continuous service in the family since its purchase.

Income Taxes Show Loss Of $34,000,000

Washington, March 26—(UP)—Income tax collections from March 1 to 24 totaled $532,548,716, but the amount was $34,000,000 less than was collected during the corresponding period last year.

Treasury officials estimated the entire collection for the month would be close to $550,000,000 as compared with $601,000,000 for March, 1929.

Illinois Mine Had Fine Safety Record

West Frankfort, Ill., March 26—(UP)—An output of $3,382,021 tons of coal from January 2, 1925, to March 20, 1930, without one fatal accident, is the new world record claimed by the Peabody Mine, No. 19, here.

SENECA WOMAN TELLS OF DEATH OF WHITE WOMAN

She Relates Details Of Murder Of Buffalo Woman On Stand

BY HARRY VAN LUNGER.
United Press Staff Correspondent.
Courtroom, Buffalo, N. Y., March 26—(UP)—The aged Nancy Bowen told in her native Seneca tongue today of how she beat Mrs. Clothilde Marchand to death with a hammer while strange noises came out of the radio—the "white witch's" machine which the Indian woman had never seen before.

Her story fell on a startled courtroom from the lips of an interpreter, who had been sworn in to help Mrs. Bowen testify in the trial of Lila Jimerson, another Indian, on a charge of being an accomplice in the killing.

By her stumbling confession the aged woman added another strange phase to this trial that already is one of the strangest in Buffalo court history. She confessed to a crime before going on trial and chose the witness stand as the place to reveal the details of her act. Mrs. Bowen is to be tried on a charge of murder after Miss Jimerson's case is concluded.

Account of Killing.

She and Lila went to the Marchand home on March 6 with a hammer, a bottle of chloroform and some "magic earth." Lila who had posed for Henri Marchand, an artist and husband of the dead woman, led Mrs. Bowen to believe that Mrs. Marchand was a witch who must be killed by March 9 or the entire Bowen family would die.

Lila waited outside the home and Mrs. Bowen entered. Mrs. Marchand turned on the radio and the squaw asked her if she was a witch. Mrs. Marchand laughingly said she was.

The Indian woman leaped on her, brandishing the hammer. She struck her twice, and Mrs. Marchand fell toward the stairway, knocking over the radio. The white woman screamed and tried to grab the hammer; and then sank back unconscious. Mrs. Bowen took the chloroform bottle, doused some of the contents on a wad of paper and thrust the paper down Mrs. Marchand's throat.

"Remember at your post!" is the order that continues to go out from here to 218 American Catholic missionaries and thousands of others of various nationalities in restless China, despite the ominous, thin-ice conditions there and the recent murder of two missionaries, including an Italian Bishop.

The Vatican's attitude during the last seven years of increasing difficulty in China has been unwavering, although 24 priests, including three Americans, have lost their lives in their heroic struggle to convert the Chinese.

MARITIME SENTENCED.

Anamosa, Iowa, March 26—(AP)—Mrs. Tilda Miner, 37, convicted last Friday of poisoning her husband, Ed. Miner, at Olin, was sentenced today by Judge H. C. Ring to life imprisonment in the woman's reformatory at Rockwell City.

She burst into tears after sentence was pronounced, and when asked if she had anything to say, replied: "I don't think it ought to be decided yet."

Mrs. Miner was accused of the crime along with Albert Hartwig. Her alleged lover, who is to stand trial in September.

Congress Will Take Recess On Week End

Washington, March 26—(AP)—The Senate rested from its tariff labors today while the House devoted its attention to a series of minor calendar bills and planned a three-day week-end recess.

Tomorrow the House will return to the District of Columbia appropriations bill planning to vote by night-fall and then adjourn until Monday, when the tariff bill comes up.

Funeral Of Poloite Friday Afternoon

Polio, Ill., March 26—The funeral of Benjamin F. Poloite, who died at his home northeast of Polo Tuesday morning, will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the West Branch church, Rev. S. S. Plum officiating, and with burial in the cemetery there.

Freaks of Record Breaking Blizzard Compiled By Press

Chicago, March 26—(UP)—Along with death and privation, the March blizzard brought an array of pranks and freaks.

The menagerie of the Sells-Floto Circus, which arrived yesterday, suffered heavily. A springbok, born on the South African veldt, two monkeys from the tropical jungles and two cockatoos died from effects of the cold and dampness. Keepers watched elephants, camels and other hot weather animals closely for fear of pneumonia.

Gwendolyn Stevens, 7, was thankful that Eskimos invented the igloo. She fell into a six-foot snow drift near her home. For an hour, while her father searched for her, she crouched in her snow shelter. Her father saw her hat on top of the drift, dug down and found Gwendolyn quite snug and safe.

Chicago theaters had their biggest night in months right after the blizzard. Thousands of office workers and shoppers, unable to get home, registered at hotels and then went to shows.

Six federal prisoners decided the storm played no favorites. The patrol wagon in which they were being taken from jail to the federal building stalled in a drift. They allowed them a 24 hour respite before arraignment. But they had to walk back to jail.

Motorcycle Policeman Frank Sieradski spent three hours in the blizzard "riding herd" on seven steers which broke out of a truck that was wrecked against an abutment. He rounded up six of them and shot the seventh when it broke its leg.

Galesburg, Ill.—The snow storm of yesterday which struck other Illinois points entirely missed Galesburg. Motorists driving here from the north and east said that the heavy blanket of snow abruptly ended some 20 miles from here.

Traffic in these directions today was reported hampered by the drifts.

Orders Missionaries To Remain At Posts

Vatican City, March 26—(AP)—"Remember at your post!" is the order that continues to go out from here to 218 American Catholic missionaries and thousands of others of various nationalities in restless China, despite the ominous, thin-ice conditions there and the recent murder of two missionaries, including an Italian Bishop.

The Vatican's attitude during the last seven years of increasing difficulty in China has been unwavering, although 24 priests, including three Americans, have lost their lives in their heroic struggle to convert the Chinese.

Figures of the Fides Services of the Propaganda Fide, which controls the missionary work of the Catholic church, show there are 1,415 foreign priests, 938 foreign religious sisters, and 201 foreign religious brothers working in China. Added to these are 1,132 native priests, 2,029 sisters and 176 brothers.

Among American orders represented is the Society of Divine Word of Techny, Ill.

American Sisterhoods include the Hospital Sisters of St. Francis, Springfield, Ill.

The Vatican's attitude that not an inch must be yielded has met with ready response.

Reports to the Propaganda Fide tell of ever farther-reaching efforts by the missionaries to bring China out of chaos by placing the individual citizen on a different basis, that of Christianity.

Death Came To Miss Harriett M. Lazarus

Miss Harriett Marcella Lazarus passed away early this morning at the Robert R. Phillips residence, 905 Second street, her death resulting from an illness of some duration. Miss Lazarus was born in Brooklyn township, February 14, 1854 and at the time of her passing was aged 76 years, one month and 12 days. She had made her home for some time with her sister, Mrs. Robert R. Phillips. Funeral arrangements had not been completed today and together with obituary, will be published later.

Former Dixon Man Died In Penna. City

Dixon friends have received word from Mrs. John Ewen of Long Island, N. Y., of the death of her father Richard Yates, who resided about forty miles from her in Altona, Mr. Yates, a former Dixon resident died on March 11th. For years the Yates family resided at the corner of Galena avenue and Fifth street in Dixon and have many friends here who remember them well.

EIGHTEEN INCHES OF SNOW FALL IN RECORD SNOWFALL

Never Has So Much Of "Beautiful" Fallen In Single Storm

BULLETIN

The local state highway offices this afternoon announced that all roads in the Dixon district are open with the exception of route 18 from Mendota to Princeton and route 70 from Compton to Mendota. Route 6 is open to the DeKalb county line, which is the limit of the Dixon district, but from there to Oak Park the highway is reported closed by snow.

The heavy tractors engaged in the road construction program under the county patrol system were bucking snow drifts today. A snow fall, much heavier than occurred in Dixon, blocked the old Chicago road east of Shaws, rendering it impassable last evening and a force of men were plowing the snow drifts away today.

Chicago, March 26—(UP)—A freakish blizzard, which seems to have a dislike for Chicago and surrounding territory, came back today and laid a record snow fall for all time on the metropolitan area.

More than 18 inches of snow paralyzed the nation's second city and cut inroads into the regular day-time population of the loop. The 18 inches of snow, whipped by a strong wind, was rapidly being added to and promised to continue for the rest of the day. The Weather Bureau went on record officially as saying "the storm might ease up before night," but was far from being definite in its prediction.

The fall reached the 18-inch mark shortly after noon and the blizzard continued unabated. If anything the fall was heavier than it had been before noon.

Many business houses closed early so employees might start home earlier and avoid the rush hour on the paralyzed traction lines.

The weather forecasters thought the blizzard had departed eastward last night as orthodox storms do but when it arrived at Lake Ontario with its cargo of snow and wind, it whirled back and centered today over Georgian Bay, with the fringes showering Chicago again.

Eight Known Killed In Mine Explosion
Arnettsville, W. Va., Mar. 26—(AP)—Eight men were killed and three others were believed dead in an explosion that swept a section of the Yukon mine of the Crown Coal Company here today. Rescue crews were endeavoring to locate the three miners, unaccounted for, in a heading where the blast occurred.

One of the victims was the Night Foreman, J. H. Livingston. Some of them were burned severely.

The explosion, according to company officials, probably was caused by gas. There was no fire in the workings as the rescue men pushed their way into the mine.

Major Albert T. Tourtellot of Dixon, candidate for legislature, was unable to speak because of a severe sore throat and Major Sam Cushing of this city very ably substituted for the candidate and made a plea for his election.

Earl R. Buck of Franklin Grove, candidate for legislature, gave a brief talk illustrating the heavy taxation in Illinois and outlined his platform as follows: economy in government; equalization of taxation; law enforcement; equalization of agriculture and labor and the proper location of hard roads throughout the state.

County Judge William L. Leech, unopposed for re-election spoke briefly and was followed by County Clerk Fred G. Dimick, who is without opposition to be returned to that office. Mrs. Olive Thompson and Sterling D. Schrock, both of Dixon, candidates for the office of County Treasurer solicited the support of the Amboy voters and a letter of regret was read from William Myers of this city, candidate for the Treasurer's office, who was unable to be present.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Fred A. Richardson of Dixon was the only candidate for the office of sheriff present. He spoke briefly, calling attention to the increasing business of the sheriff's office and the efficient manner in which the office has been conducted during the past three years under Sheriff Ward T. Miller, and concluded by stating that the same program of efficiency and law enforcement would be practiced in his selection to that office.

William Cotter, candidate for the office of town clerk of Amboy township; Everett Barnes, candidate for re-election as assessor and Carl Sartorius, candidate for school trustee were introduced at the meeting closed.

MANY CONSIDERED
FOR ADMINISTRATION OF DRY LAWS

Doran Will Retire At the Transfer Of Bureau To Justice Dept.

By JOSEPH S. WASNEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington—(UP)—A large field of candidates is being seriously considered for the post of National Prohibition Director when dry law enforcement activities are transferred from the Treasury to the Justice Department.

J. D. Pennington, prohibition administrator for western Pennsylvania, was here today conferring with Prohibition Commissioner J. M. Doran, who will retire from public office when the departmental transfer is consummated.

The Pittsburgh Administrator was a Lieutenant Commander in the Navy during the World War. He was appointed administrator by former Assistant Treasury Secretary L. C. Andrews. Andrews is now supporting his protégé for the national directorship.

Attorney General Mitchell, it is learned authoritatively, desires a man with military experience for the directorship which will pay $9,000 a year.

Others Mentioned
Maurice Campbell, New York administrator, has been mentioned as a prospect and Harry Anslinger, Deputy Prohibition Commissioner in charge of narcotic enforcement, is understood to be backed by Assistant Secretary of Treasury Lowman.

Ole Ottefald, formerly Assistant Prohibition Commissioner and now special internal revenue agent at Los Angeles, has conferred with Doran and Mitchell on the prohibition situation recently.

William J. Calhoun, New Jersey Administrator, and William G. Walker, San Francisco Administrator, have been called into conference by Doran recently to talk over impending changes.

Officials of both the Treasury and the Justice Department intimate the new National Prohibition Director may be a "dark horse" and probably a two pistol fighting man like Brig. Gen. Smedley Butler of the Marine Corps. Butler's name has been mentioned in connection with the pending vacancy for some time.

RULE BY LOVE, NOT FEAR

THE real man is a witness of God. Then let all our communications reflect this true witnessing to God. This should be the standard of conversation, its purpose, and its meaning.

"Speak gently, it is better far
To rule by love than fear;
Speak gently, let no harsh word mar
The good we may do here."

"Speak gently, 'tis a little thing,
Dropped in the heart's deep well;
The good, the joy that it may bring,
Eternity shall tell."

Delightful Luncheon
Given on Saturday

Mrs. Adolph Pratscher of 625
Brinton avenue was hostess on Saturday at a most delightful luncheon and bridge at the Coffee House, at which time she entertained guests for two tables. The attractive decorations were in yellow and green, candids being the flowers, and the tallies and favors carrying out the spring-like combination.

At bridge Mrs. Mahlon Hartzell was awarded the favor for high honors; Mrs. Gordon Bennett winning the second favor.

Mr. Pratscher who is the district manager for the Continental Can Co. has been transferred to Rockford and Mr. and Mrs. Pratscher are moving to that city next week.

ROSENWALD AND BRIDE
SAIL FOR HOME TONIGHT

London, March 25.—(UP)—Julius Rosenwald, Chicago philanthropist, and his bride, who have been touring Egypt and parts of France and England on their honeymoon, will leave for New York on the liner Majestic tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. Rosenwald attended the annual court of the Governors of the Royal Free Hospital today, at which Lord Riddell presided. Charles G. Dawes, United States Ambassador to London, made an address and Rosenwald spoke briefly.

Rosenwald was delighted with his trip.
"I had the time of my life," he said, "and my visits to General
Dawes was a red letter event for me.
The Ambassador sets a fine table."

Luncheon Club Held
Enjoyable Meeting

The One O'clock Luncheon Club

The Herrick home was gay with lovely spring flowers. A delightful luncheon was served. All the members were busily employed during the meeting with sewing for the poor children of the city, and many nice garments were completed.

New Leader Sought
For Women Voters

BY MARTHA STRAYER

United Press Special Correspondent.
Washington, March 26.—(UP)— Wanted—a new president for the largest non-partisan women's political organization in America.

The National League of Women Voters will hold its 10th anniversary convention in Louisville, Ky., the week of May 1.

At that convention it must elect its third President to succeed Miss Belle Sherwin of Cleveland, Ohio, a brilliant, quiet, cultured student of world affairs, who has led this group of women for three successive terms, since 1924.

The job of the League's nominating committee is to find a successor and it is now trying to fix up a slate
for the May election.

Miss Sherwin positively has declined re-election. Several other women at the top of the organization, who would be logical successors, are unable to serve for one reason or another. Nobody knows upon whom the mantle will fall, but it's a pretty safe guess that there will be no election contest.

Whoever is chosen by the nominating committee will be recognized as the choice of the organization and will be elected without opposition, if experience in previous elections serves on this occasion.

Miss Sherwin had no opposition in any of her three elections. Neither did Mrs. Maud Wood Park, who preceded her and was the only previous president of the League.

Mrs. Park is now at the Hague, sitting in as an unofficial "observer"
at the international law codification conferences.

The League is the successor of the old Woman's Suffrage Association, which went out of existence
when women were given the vote.

It has branches in 45 states and is more active in local and state politics than in national or international affairs. It aims at education along lines of public interest, as well as leadership in sponsoring particular policies.

Eligibility for the office of President means possession of several qualifications. The League's head must be a woman of means and leisure, who can spend most or all of her time at headquarters here. She must have established a national reputation in her non-partisan organization, and must be a woman of real ability.

The League draws its membership from both political parties and adheres to neither.

children planned a happy surprise for them. A delicious four course dinner was served at noon. The table was decorated with daffodils and golden candles. A large cake beautifully decorated in gold and white bearing the dates March 22nd 1880 and 1930 was baked by their daughter, Mrs. Fred Whitmore.

Mr. and Mrs. Smallwood were remembered with a number of nice and useful gifts, among them being fifty dollars in gold presented by their children. During the afternoon a short musical program was presented by Miss Flossie Query and Miss Mary Whitmore followed by a period of social chat.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs.
Joseph Smallwood and family, Mr.
and Mrs. Charles Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Whitmore and family, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Smallwood and son Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schoaf and children, all of Harmon, and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Query of Maroa, Illinois.

Requests were received from their daughter, Mrs. Louis Piesner of Mohalla, Oregon and their son Edgar and family of Detroit, Michigan.

All departed with best wishes for future happy anniversaries, at the close of the happy day.

Thirtieth Wedding Anniversary Observed
On Friday Evening

On March 21, 1900, at Elmwood,
Neb., the marriage of Lucretia
Ferguson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Amzi Ferguson, and Merrit LeRoy
Ransom, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Schuyler Ransom of Nelson township, took place.

On Friday evening some sixty neighbors and relatives arrived unexpectedly at the Ransom home, announcing they had come to assist them in celebrating their thirtieth wedding anniversary. In a short time all were comfortably settled in the spacious home and tables were brought in and cards enjoyed until a late hour, when delicious refreshments were enjoyed, and the bride and bridegroom of thirty years ago were presented with temptingly decorated cakes, inscribed with the numbers 1900-1930. Miniature brides and grooms also graced the cakes.

Then C. C. Buckaloo, taking the floor, announced that while he had not been married thirty years, he had been told that it took a remarkable woman to live with a man thirty years, to which Mr. Ransom replied, "It is because I am such a good man," after which Mr. Buckaloo proceeded to shed more light on the subject by presenting Mr. and Mrs.
Ransom with a beautiful electric floor lamp in behalf of the guests with their best wishes. A lovely bouquet of red roses was the gift of the children, Roy, Mildred and Irma,
(who last January became Mrs.
Russell Grobe.) Mrs. E. J. Hollenbeck read a tribute sent by Mrs.
Louis Meppen, absent because of illness.

All regretted not having present
Mrs. Ransom's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Amzi Ferguson, of Elmwood, Neb., who in their youth were residents of this vicinity and enjoy good health and whose sixtieth wedding anniversary, Mrs. Ransom, Mildred, Roy and family, attended last fall.

At a late hour the guests departed, having spent a very pleasant evening, and hoping for the privilege of celebrating many more anniversaries
at this hospitable home.

League Women Voters Celebrate Birthday

Washington, Mar. 26.—(AP)—The National League of Women Voters
today celebrated ten years of women's suffrage with a chain of luncheon parties stretching across the country.

Birthday parties were arranged in forty-two states.

The luncheon-tables were joined by a nation-wide hook-up with Carrie Chapman Catt, silver-haired, seventy-years-old, the grand old lady of women's suffrage, addressing the thousands of celebrants.

Blue and yellow was the color
theme of the day—the colors once borne on campaign badges and banners in the days when suffrage was still but a hope for the future. In St. Louis the party was brightened with the famous yellow umbrellas of a former parade. In Chicago the women got out their old yellow campaign hats.

In addition to Mrs. Catt, the radio speakers included Miss Belle Sherwin, National President of the League; and Miss Katherine Ludington of Lyme, Conn., vice president.

The birthday celebration was the first of a series planned for the next few months in recognition of the first decade of women's voice in government. A convention will be held in Louisville on April 18.

Will Attend Symphony
Orchestra Concert, Chi.

Mrs. E. M. Goodsell, accompanied by fifteen of her pupils in piano and voice will attend in Chicago this evening, at Orchestra Hall, the concert by the Symphony Orchestra. They will be privileged to hear Mary Gruszynski, the young Russian singer who has been awarded the Rosa Raisa scholarship for this year giving her the benefit of two years' study abroad. The Dixontes will also hear Thomas Herbert, famous pianist who will play an Andante Rondo Allegro.
Following the concert, Mrs. Goodsell and her pupils will be guests of the faculty of the Sherwood Conservatory of Music.

GIRL SCOUT COURT
OF AWARDS

The Girl Scout Court of Awards will be held Friday evening in the former south side high school room.

day evening in their hall at 8 o'clock.

Meyers-Bollman
Wedding Yesterday

On Tuesday afternoon at the parsonage to St. Paul's Lutheran church the marriage of Miss Helen Carolyn Meyers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
William E. Meyers of 111 E. McKinney, to James Edwin Bollman, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bollman of South Dixon. The pastor of St. Paul's church, Rev. Lloyd Warren Walter, officiated at the wedding service. The sisters of the bridegroom,
the Misses Ruth and Mary Bollman were witnesses to the marriage. The bride, a most attractive young woman, was attired in a lovely gown of Pirate blue georgette, with hat and accessories to match.

At 6 o'clock last evening at the bride's home, a wedding dinner and reception was held for about thirty guests. The Meyers home was gay in decorations of pink and white. Pink tulips and snapdragons were the flowers. The guests were seated at three tables for the tempting dinner,
the table decorations being pink tulips, and for the bride's table there was the addition of the beautifully decorated wedding cake in pink and white, with a miniature bride and bridegroom adorning the top.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Eberly of Nelson township assisted Mr. and Mrs.
Meyers, Mr. and Mrs. Bollman, Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Bollman, Jr., (the bride and bridegroom) in receiving the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Bollman have taken up their residence with his parents on the farm where they will make their home, and expect to take a wedding trip in the coming summer. Bot-lman is estimable young people with hosts of friends who join in extending to them at this time best wishes for their happiness. The high regard in which the newlyweds are held by many friends was evidenced by the many and beautiful wedding gifts received by them.

This Last Joke Was—
Well, Just Too Much

Evanson, Ill., March 26.—(AP)— Harry Gordon, wisecracker and practical joker, has landed in jail.

Mrs. Gordon had him put there last night. For years, she said, she had endured the usual line of jokes and tried to smile when Gordon admonished his friends not to any wooden nickels. She had eaten salt for sugar, been squirted with water when she smelled fake roses and seen any number of cigars explode.

But last night he introduced a new one. Mrs. Gordon brought a girlhood chum out to the house and introduced her to the husband. He shook hands, locked the guest over quizzically, remarked that she needed a shampoo and, dragging her to the bathroom, gave her one.

That, Mrs. Gordon told police, was the last joke.

THE TELEGRAPH'S PROGRAM FOR A GREATER DIXON

Increase Dixon's Population 1,000 each year.
Connect Dixon with the inland Waterway System.
Pass a City Zoning Law.
Enlarge Dixon's City Limits.
Abolish the Smoke Nuisance.
Repave and Widen Streets in Business District.
Build a Municipal Bathing Pool.
Advertise the Beautiful Rock River Valley.
Develop Dixon as an Industrial and Trading Center.

WIDEN STREETS—THEN REPAIR THEM.

The present city administration could perform a valuable service to Dixon if it would put through a program for the widening and resurfacing of the streets in the business section of the city.

The ancient brick paving in downtown Dixon has outlived its usefulness. It has served its purpose well and long ago has repaid its cost. Now it is an area of depressions and bumps and it is steadily growing worse.

The sidewalks on most of the downtown streets are wider than they need to be and the streets are far too narrow for the already too heavy and rapidly increasing traffic.

A new lighting system is proposed. It should be installed to conform with the wider streets. Improvements that allow for better and more comfortable traffic conditions will help Dixon. The Telegraph hopes that Dixon may have wider, smoother streets at an early date.

A TARIFF ON OIL.

A tariff on oil would not, in the long run, help the American petroleum industry at all, according to a bulletin issued by the Alexander Hamilton Institute. Declaring that such a tariff would tend to curtail our oil exports, the bulletin declares:

"Even if the United States were able to maintain its export trade in the face of keener competition from foreign oil resulting from a tariff, the improvement in the situation would prove to be only temporary because of the large oil resources of the United States.

"A rise in prices would soon lead to over-production and a consequent drop in prices to the former level. As long as a country is able to produce an exportable surplus of a commodity, a duty in imports is a hopeless method of supporting the market."

That is worth thinking over. Incidentally, there are other American products besides oil to which it might apply.

DETROIT'S AMAZING STORY.

Someone has remarked that criminals flock to the busiest, most prosperous cities. If this is so, Detroit apparently is paying the penalty for the business that the automobile industry has brought it.

It is an amazing story that is being told at the Detroit police board hearings. Almost incredible charges are hurled back and forth at high officials of the police department. It is asserted that Detroit's notorious "Purple Gang" had friendly relations with some of these officials and was given a helping hand by them when the going got tough.

And, meanwhile, Detroit continues to have a "crime wave" that bears comparison with Chicago's.

In America, at any rate, prosperity seems to bring a certain amount of lawlessness in its wake. Detroit, like Chicago, is suffering for it.

STREET SIGNS NEEDED.

Dixon needs a complete new system of street marking. Only a few citizens are thoroughly familiar with the location of all of Dixon's streets and the average citizen is at a loss to find an address on a great percentage of the streets of the city because of the lack of the unusual corner signposts.

Every street intersection in the city should be marked by a permanent post bearing a permanent sign with the name of the street or avenue.

The woman who threw an alarm clock at her husband and knocked out one of his teeth because he trumped her ace, probably wanted to teach him a lesson on his bridge work.

An "electric eye" mechanism which fires a gun as a prisoner climbs up a wall to escape has been demonstrated with success. But most prisoners will regard this like other current events.

A New York hotel had new Bibles placed in 450 of its rooms. The Good Book, apparently, has not lost any of its popularity as a souvenir.

A pastor in North Carolina says he saw a white blackbird. Maybe so. A blueberry is red when it's green, you know.

Three hundred years ago the colonists paid their taxes with corn. Judging from certain practices since prohibition this still is the custom.

New York preachers say that collections have increased as result of church advertising. It pays to advertise, it seems.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The omnibus came to a stop. The Tinymites climbed up to the top and sat down, all excited. Then the bus was on its way. Their escort said, "Now, Tinymites, look around and see the sights. This is a dandy time to ride, 'cause it's a wondrous day."

"And he was right. The day was clear and not a bit of fog was near. This made we Clowny wonder and he said, 'Please tell me this. Where is the fog that they have here? I thought it came all through the year. I've heard so much about it, it's a sight I hate to miss.'"

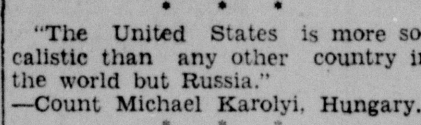

The Travel Man just smiled a bit and said, "Oh, we'll be seeing it before we leave old London town, but goodness, gracious me, we don't want fog to hinder us. I know you all would start to fuss 'cause when it's very foggy it is pretty hard to see."

The bunch agreed that this was right and much preferred the broad daylight. They traveled many miles and then we Scouty shouted, "Gee! let's leave the bus and walk a bit. The exercise will make us fit. Then we can take our time and see whatever there's to see."

They all soon found the Travel Man was much in favor of this plan. The next time that the big bus stopped, they clamored to the ground. "Well see the Palace Buckingham," exclaimed the friendly Travel Man. "It is a very pretty sight, if you'll all look around."

They shortly reached the palace gate and came upon a tall, sedate and military looking man. A royal guard was he. One Tiny promptly tipped his hat and said, "Oh, for a suit like that. I know 't would be becoming and just think how proud I'd be."

ROBERT FROST'S BIRTH
On March 26, 1875, Robert Frost, American poet, noted for his poems of New England life was born in San Francisco.

When he was 10 he moved with his parents to Lawrence, Mass., where he received his elementary education. He studied a year at Dartmouth, two more at Harvard, and then taught English and psychology in secondary schools in New Hampshire. It was in this period that he first took the writing of poetry seriously.

Convinced he could develop his powers abroad, Frost sailed for England in 1912. In the three years he remained there he published "A Boy's Will," his first book of verse and made the acquaintance of Ezra Pound, poet. On his return to this country he retired to a farm in New Hampshire but left it later to teach at Amherst College and the University of Michigan.

Frost's poems reveal the soul and soil of New England. One critic said of them: "They are of the highest importance as social history—if as nothing else for men in coming generations will turn to them, after time has wrought its slow changes, to find in them the forgotten aspects of their ancestors."

that there is a disease of the middle ear. This condition is usually caused by some trouble in the nose or throat. It is often associated with teething in infants; but the teething is not the cause. Certain alterations of circulation are produced, by successive eruption of teeth, in the tiny mouth. These disturbances may induce congestion of the Eustachian tubes. In the presence of such swelling, resistance of the baby tissues to infection is greatly decreased. Inflammation of the adenoids occurs, and extends up the Eustachian tube to the middle ear. Pus is formed, the ear drum breaks, from pressure behind it, since no drainage can now occur through the swollen Eustachian tube, and pus appears in the ear canal. In the young infant there may or may not be earache preceding rupture of the drum. With older children and adults there is always some pain; and it may be most excruciating.

Any running ear should have the early attention of an ear specialist. An aching ear should not be tampered with until it breaks, but should be cared for at once. The above applies to the teething baby just as surely as to any one. Without any realization of the enormity of their offense some people are given to advising troubled parents that the child with a running ear will "grow out of it." Such advice is always dangerous and should be vigorously condemned.

If the cause of an infected ear be sought for early and remedied, prompt recovery is the rule and the hearing is preserved, unless disease has already attacked the mastoid bone behind the ear. Where proper treatment is long delayed, more serious trouble is invited. This may take the form of chronic deafness, acute mastoiditis, the second requires a major operation, the third is almost universally fatal. Brain abscess is also nearly always fatal, since it is rarely recognized until so late that operation is of little avail.

More consistent care of running ears will help much in the battle against deafness, and will save some lives.

We forget, sometimes, that the science of right living must begin with restoration. This is the significance of Christianity as a religion with a gospel of redemption. It seeks and saves the lost and restores them to the right way. Its gospel is a gospel of repentance, of turning from wrong directions and getting the proper bearings toward the true goal.

The other day I was speaking to a man who not long ago came through a serious illness. The illness was due to some internal disorder, and my friend consulted an eminent doctor. He began by putting my friend upon a two weeks' fast, and then established a careful and well chosen diet, the ultimate effect of the treatment being to bring my friend from a serious condition of illness back to normal health. Just how effective diet and fasting might prove in every such case one need not say. But assuming the value of this method in certain cases, one may stress the importance that this doctor laid upon a right beginning. The first thing was to restore the system from the effects of wrong diet and wrong habits. The two weeks' fast seems to be a necessary gateway to constructive treatment.

So it is with the life of the soul. It is in turning from sin that we are enabled to cleave unto righteousness.

And the trouble with too many people is that they try to live the Christian life without ever getting the proper start in true repentance and in power of redemptive experience.

That the world's greatest selling power is advertising.

Advertising is the spirit of progress of the business world. Steadily it gives a complete victory over all obstacles because it is dependable.

Year after year advertising constantly makes its successful appeal to the world on behalf of worthy business.

No power or influence can hinder or retard the growth of a business that is being built with the aid of steady, truthful advertising.

Business men who make a practice of studying the advertising and editorial pages of the newspaper and trade journals keep up-to-date and are better fortified to engage in the battle for better business.

Why Pay for Indifference?

YOU business men would not think of tolerating an employee who did not give to the fullest extent of his time and ability. Why then take chances with the men who are to run our government? Why not be sure that the man you elect will never be a part-time representative.

It's but practical business sense to expect constant devotion to the governing business at hand when you have approved a man's candidacy to represent you. That's why thinking voters look with intense interest on the past record of Senator Harry G. Wright. Ten years of public service with but one day's absence from active work! Ten solid years of guarding of your welfare without let-up.

That's the type of Senator your taxes pay for—and that's what you have received for the past ten years. The next four will see a continuance of that worthy policy. Protecting your funds and consistently working for the betterment of the public that has elected him is assured if you mark your ballot in favor of Harry G. Wright for State Senator.

The following is a copy of a letter written by Dr. J. C. Brown, former president of the Northern Illinois State Teachers' College of DeKalb

January 18, 1929
During the two years that I was president of the Northern Illinois State Teachers' College I had frequent contacts with Senator Harry G. Wright.

Senator Wright is greatly interested not only in the Teachers' College of DeKalb but in all matters that relate to the general welfare and progress of the state of Illinois. Senator Wright's influence in Springfield is generally recognized, and his standing with state officials and with members of the Senate and of the House is such that he is able to render unusual services in his official capacity.

In all of my dealings with Senator Wright, I found him to be frank, earnest, industrious and reliable.

Very sincerely yours,
J. C. BROWN.

DECLARATION BY AMERICANS CLEARS PARLEY

Willing France Make Security Pact In Other Quarters

Paris, March 26.—(AP)—The American declaration issued shortly after midnight on the position of the United States regarding proposals for a so-called consultative pact, was regarded in French official circles today as tending to clear the atmosphere at London and to hasten a decision.

France, it was said, continues to hope that the naval conference will yield results and Foreign Minister Briand who left for London at noon, will explore all the avenues of a possible agreement.

No surprise was expressed here that the United States had reiterated its refusal to become involved in any pact that even implied aid, but the last paragraph suggesting that there may be other methods of guaranteeing French security again directed thought here toward a Mediterranean pact.

It was recognized that Great Britain is active in being an active third party with France and Italy, but Foreign Minister Briand's speech in the Senate yesterday was taken as plainly indicating his optimism that something could be done in some directions.

The repeated, however, the French policy of insisting that any reduction must be based upon compensating terms in some form of a security pact even if it should not be a strictly military one.

U. S. DECLARATION

London, March 26.—(AP)—If France can obtain the military guarantees of security she wants from some other nation the United States declaration to the five power naval conference will consider a proposal for a so-called consultative pact "with an entirely open mind."

A statement issued by the American delegation shortly after midnight reiterated formerly expressed unwillingness to enter any treaty which would involve the United States in any sort of a military guarantee of French security. The consultative pact mentioned merely would involve consultation with the other five powers in event of threat of war.

Denial also was made in the statement that there had been any change of the American attitude since such previous expressions. In elaborating paragraphs, however, it was said that there was no objection to a consultative pact as such, the danger lying in the American stand to be misunderstood to imply an obligation of military assistance.

"Such a misunderstanding might arise," the statement said, "if the United States entered into such a treaty as a quid pro quo for the reduction of the naval forces and another power. That danger has hitherto inhered in the present situation, where France has been demanding mutual military security as a condition of naval reduction. As appears from her original statement of her case last December.

"If, however, this demand for security could be satisfied in some other way, then the danger of a misunderstanding of a consultative pact would be eliminated, and in such case the question would be approached from an entirely different standpoint. In such case the American delegation would consider the matter with an entirely open mind."

Conference circles saw in the developments renewed hope for a five power treaty of limitation and reduction of paper reduction, since it was believed France would find in the implied American preference the price she wishes to reduce her naval program which hitherto has made such a treaty impossible.

DEATH RATE OF NATION LOWER UNDER DRY LAW

Head Of Church Union Claims His Figures Prove Claim

BY PAUL R. MALLON, United Press Staff Correspondent.

Washington, March 26.—(UP)—Prohibition has cut down the nation's death rate, John J. Lentz, president of the American Church Union, told the House Judiciary committee today as the drys opened their final day of the prohibition hearings.

Lentz said that in the five years prior to prohibition, 1914 to 1919, a survey of 77 insurance companies showed that the relation of actual to expected mortality ranged from 60 to 63 per cent, except in the influenza epidemic when it ran to 95 per cent. "But the average for the years 1921 to 1927 when the 18th amendment was in force ranged as low as 50 to 53 per cent," he added.

The figures cited by Lentz on the relation of actual to expected mortality follow:

Before Prohibition:
1914, 68.66 per cent; 1915, 68.40 per cent; 1916, 68.86 per cent; 1917, 63.35 per cent; 1918, 95.12 per cent; 1919, 65.21 per cent.

After Prohibition:
1921, 51.73 per cent; 1922, 53.56 per cent; 1923, 54.70 per cent; 1924, 52.73 per cent; 1925, 50.88 per cent; 1926, 53.26 per cent; 1927, 52.71 per cent.

Credit Prohibition.
"Now these figures can mean only one thing; that something has happened to lengthen the lives of our people. These figures show that after we abolished the 250,000 saloons of the nation, the death rate dropped from 68 per cent, the high point, to 54 per cent. That means that the lives of liquor-drinking, insured people (the so-called respectable drinkers) were lengthened as a result of the abolition of the saloon."

"Forty-three life insurance companies made an investigation from the actual standpoint of the effect of alcoholic beverages as determined by a scientific investigation of two million insured lives. Of these actuaries, Arthur Hunter, chairman of the Central Bureau, showed in his report that in 1914 among men engaged as saloon keepers, bartenders and hotel proprietors and the like, there were 17 deaths to the hundred, while among total abstainers there was a mortality of only 10 to the hundred."

Statement of Bishop.
"He also stated that the statistics gathered from these two million lives showed that among the men whose habits were considered satisfactory but were admitted to be alcoholic users in moderate amounts the death rate was 15 to the hundred, while the death rate would have been only 10 had alcoholic liquors not been used."

Lentz read a statement from Right Rev. James E. Cassidy, Catholic Bishop of Fall River, Mass., to the effect that "universal prohibition would save more lives than general disarmament."

In answer to questions, Lentz pointed out his figures covered but 77 of the 355 life insurance companies of the country and that eight large

Son Of Evangelist Billy Sunday Held

Chicago, March 26.—(AP)—George M. Sunday, 36, son of Billy Sunday, the evangelist, was held in a Chicago police cell today for Los Angeles, Cal., authorities who telegraphed that he was wanted there for bond forfeiture and a statutory offense.

Sunday was arrested on a downtown corner last night when he was seen struggling in a snowdrift. In his pocket was found a telegram bearing his name. Police inquired whether he was a son of the evangelist, but Sunday then said he was Smith Leonard Johnson. An officer recognized him as Sunday, however, and today he admitted his identity.

No charges were placed against him here after the Detective Bureau received the request from Los Angeles that he be held for extradition papers which were to be forwarded. Details of the charges were not known here.

GREATEST RACE IN SHIPBUILDING IN FOUR NATIONS

Will Seek To Regain Speed Record From German Owners

New York, March 26.—(AP)—The greatest shipbuilding race in history, in which four nations will attempt to wrest from Germany the honor of having the fastest steamship afloat, was foreseen today.

Germany's hold on the mythical blue ribbon of the Atlantic was firmly clinched yesterday when the new North German Lloyd liner Europa established a record of 4 days, 17 hours and 6 minutes from Cherbourg, Breakwater to Ambrose Channel lightship, entrance of New York harbor, bettering by 18 minutes the former record established by her sister ship, Bremen.

However, ever since the Bremen took the speed championship from the Cunard liner Mauretania last July plans have been underway in Great Britain, France, Italy and the United States to build ships in the hope of carrying off the speed championship.

The United States Lines have already submitted plans for two superliners capable of maintaining an average speed of twenty-eight and one half knots. Both ships will cost about $30,000,000 each.

Others Make Plans
In Great Britain, the Cunard Line has completed plans for a ship of approximately 60,000 tons. In France, construction of a superliner by the French Line only awaits enlarging of the St. Nazaire shipyard, while in Italy both the Navigazione Generale Italiana and the Lloyd Sabaudo have plans prepared for ships designed to make a speed of twenty-eight and one half knots.

The Europa's average speed for her record run was 27.91 knots, but for several hours she reached a top speed of 28.01 knots. She is of 48,748 tons. The Bremen is 51,656 tons. Although Captain Nicolaus Johnsen declined to confirm predictions that the ship in calmer weather would be able to average 30 knots, he admitted he thought she would be able to do better than her present record.

One of the senior engineers said they would not attempt to make a better average than 28.5 knots until the appearance of a competitor should make a faster speed necessary. This, he predicted, would not be for at least four years.

MAJOR LEAGUES POSSESS EQUAL EARLY STRENGTH

Spring Inter-League Exhibitions Equally Divided Up

By HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
New York, March 26—(AP)—Inter-League conflict in spring baseball exhibitions has "proved" that the National and American Leagues are of exactly equal playing strength.

Of the 39 games involving teams from each league, the National has won 19, the American 19 and one between the New York Giants and Chicago White Sox, ended in a tie.

From a National League standpoint the Brooklyn Robins and Boston Braves have been the most effective against clubs from the rival circuit. In the American League only the Chicago White Sox and Detroit Tigers can boast better than an even break with the National League.

In the compilation of all spring games, regardless of the character of the opposition, the Washington Senators head the list with four victories and no defeats. All of the Senators' triumphs have been scored over minor league clubs. The Boston Red Sox and Cleveland Indians also have perfect records, each with two wins against minor league opposition.

Here's how the National and American League clubs have fared in inter-league combat:

Team	Won	Lost
Brooklyn (N)	3	1
Chicago (A)	2	2
Boston (N)	2	5
Detroit (A)	4	3
Phila. (A)	5	5
St. Louis (N)	4	4
Cincinnati (N)	3	3
New York (A)	6	7
New York (N)	2	4
Phila. (N)	0	2
St. Louis (A)	0	2

The standing, including all exhibition games, follows:

Team	Won	Lost
Washington (A)	4	0
Boston (A)	2	0
Cleveland (A)	2	0
St. Louis (A)	6	2
Chicago (A)	6	2

Most "Unpopular" Fight Referee Dead
Los Angeles, Calif., March 26—(AP)—An irony of fate has brought death to Johnny Schiff, former featherweight boxer, and more lately known as southern California's "most unpopular" fight referee.

Schiff, who attracted world-wide attention twice during his career, died in a hospital yesterday from an infection which followed a blow delivered to his jaw by an incensed fight fan.

Little is known of the referee's private life. None of his Los Angeles associates know his age, birthplace, or early history.
In 1912 Schiff's popularity reached its height when he made a boxing tour of the world. During the World War he was decorated personally by the King of Italy, and by representatives of three other governments, for bravery shown while driving an ambulance in the front line.

The last and anticlimactic phase of Schiff's career was lived here, where he was called southern California's "most unpopular" fight referee.

His real name was Porter S. Newman, Jr. He took the name of Schiff when he launched his career in Australia to avoid embarrassing his father, Porter S. Newman, Sr., then a bank executive in southern California.

The father has not been located.

Trafton Will Try To Stay The Limit

Kansas City, March 26—(AP)—Primo Carnera, 270-pound Italian carpenter, tonight will attempt to increase his string of knockout victories at the expense of George Trafton, Notre Dame and professional football star, who previously donned the padded gloves to defeat Art Shires, Chicago White Sox first baseman.

Although fans are frankly skeptical of Trafton's chances against the foreign man-mountain, the former football player today expressed confidence that he will stay the limit.

Carnera, has trained consistently for the match.

Advance ticket sales indicate a capacity crowd will attend the fight in Convention Hall. The scrap is scheduled for ten rounds.

Supporting bouts will include a 10-round semi-windup between Ivan Laffineur, French welterweight champion, and Meyer Grace, Chicago.

Shires Faces Fight To Get His Old Job

San Antonio, Tex., March 26—(AP)—Charles Arthur Shires may be as great as he claims to be but he has to prove it to Donie Bush, manager of the White Sox.

Although the "Great One" gained reinstatement and signed a contract at Chicago yesterday, he will have to fight to get his old first base job back. Manager Bush said. Bud Clancy has been tending to the bag in great fashion all spring.

Shires, the last of the White Sox holdouts, was en route to camp today, penitent but "all set to outfight Hornsby and Ruth."

The history of the sweet potato is obscure. It is supposed that it is native to America, where it has been cultivated for centuries.

BUCKET OF PAINT ALMOST DISRUPTS AUTO SPEED EVENT

Daytona People Do Not Want Silver Bullet With A Red Nose

BY MORRIS DEHAVEN TRACY
United Press Staff Correspondent
Daytona Beach, Fla., March 26—(UP)—The international speed trials in which Kaye Don of England is attempting to set a world's automobile speed record, stumbled over a bucket of paint last night and for an hour seemed perilously near a comedy ending.

The paint had been applied to the nose of the Silver Bullet, Don's 4,000-horse power super-car, to make it more visible against the background of white sand.

When the management of the trials heard that the Silver Bullet had enveloped a flaming red nose over night, it became inflamed and notified Don's managers that no red-nosed car could slide down Daytona's nice white beach to a speed record.

A half hour after the ultimatum was delivered, however, the crisis passed. Louis Coetelen, designer of the car, and Don sent a joint communication to the management saying that if red noses were offensive the Silver Bullet would be returned immediately to its original, modest, mousey grey.

Spectators complained, and officials of the meet agreed with them, that the Silver Bullet merged so closely into the color of the sand that it was not visible a mile away.

So it was painted red.

To Retake Films.
Then someone suggested that a few miles of talkie films had been made of the car for use when and if it breaks the record, and many other pictures of it taken, showing the Silver Bullet as modest as a maiden lady in its grey garb. There was a council of war and plans were made to take all the pictures over again today. Don agreed to make a new speech into the talkie-microphone to harmonize with a red nosed car and his sister, Mrs. Rita Livesay, was understood to be willing to break a new bottle of domestic champagne on the repainted snout.

It was just at that juncture that Val Haresnape, director of the trials, became incensed and sent his ultimatum.

He wanted to know what sort of business it was to enter a nice, silver grey car named Silver Bullet in a speed trial and then to trot out a vivid, red-nosed monster with stripes down its sides and waving red tail feathers. He pointed out what the entry blank said and all of that. It was deadly serious.

Don and Coetelen got their copies of the letter first. A half hour later they averted catastrophe by dispatching an answer. They hadn't meant any harm, they explained. Rather they wanted "your public" as they put it, to be able to see the car. But if red was a color irritating to Daytona, they'd surely wipe the Silver Bullet's nose before it appears in public again.

Which seemed to settle that.

Cubs and White Sox Plan For 'Kids Days'

Chicago, March 26—(AP)—Good news for baseball-hungry "kids": As a part of an organized campaign to reawaken interest in baseball among boys, all major league clubs may permit them to see four or more games each week free during the 1930 season.

Chicago's major league clubs, the Cubs and White Sox, already have agreed to have four "kids days" a week. Other clubs, Major and minor, are expected to follow suit.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

The Boy Scout Mobilization last night at the City Hall proved a success. Sixty-nine Scouts and leaders reported in 28 minutes. Mr. Louis Pitcher, the local Executive Board presented a very interesting talk about his experiences regarding the Hunting of Moose in the North Woods.

The outdoor activities with living in the open impressed the Scouts. Mr. Mark Kellar and William Terrill add ressed the Scouts concerning preparedness in the time of need. The Scouts have proved to be a very efficient aid in the time of disaster. During the Mississippi flood refugees were taken care of and emergency hospitals provided for the sick and injured. The Scouts were dismissed and troops held their meetings in their troop meeting places.

New Troop added at Sterling. The Broadway M. E. Church has completed its organization for a Scout troop. The following members comprise the Troop Committee: John David, J. J. Anderson, Harry Thomas, Lee Little, and G. F. Trotter. Arthur H. Husung has been appointed as the Scoutmaster. 12 Scouts have signified their intentions of being members of this troop.

An Opportunity For a Resident of Dixon

A large Chicago Development Corporation in its inauguration in the expansion of its activities outside of Chicago is appointing a local representative in Dixon. The successful applicant will have the benefit of the direction, guidance and co-operation of an able executive of our Company as long as it may be necessary. Experience, therefore, is not essential. The applicant that we appoint to represent us must have the following qualifications: Must be a reliable man of mature age, a resident of Dixon for at least five years, who is active, honest and resourceful, having the confidence of his acquaintance and being known for honesty in his business dealings. None other will be considered. We may possibly appoint a responsible applicant who may now be engaged in business, provided, however, he can devote the necessary time to our business, which in our opinion will not interfere materially with his own, and in our business he should earn a minimum of Five to Six Thousand Dollars during the first year of his association with us and more thereafter. State qualifications in every detail in your first letter. Your application will be received and given careful consideration by the President of this Company, and if favorable will be invited to come to Chicago at our expense for a personal interview.

Address President,
L. A. ALBERT & CO.,
180 N. Michigan Ave.,
Chicago, Illinois.

As "Old Ironsides" Went to Sea Again

"Staunch and strong, a worthy vessel." Old Ironsides—officially known as the U. S. S. Constitution—taken to the sea again. Pennies contributed by school children in Dixon and other American communities made possible the reconditioning of the historic frigate, pictured here as it was set afloat at the Charleston, S. C. navy yard after being under construction for three years. The famous warship displayed a replica of the flag of fifteen stars and fifteen stripes which it flew when it went into service 132 years ago. Other flags and bunting were strung from the jury masts. New funds are being sought to finish rebuilding the vessel.

AVOID UGLY PIMPLES

Does a pimply face embarrass you? Get a package of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights, if you are like thousands of others.

Help cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating. Thousands who take Olive Tablets are never cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition, pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound; known by their olive color. Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take nothing for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c, 30c, 60c.

ERRORGRAMS

Today's Scrambled Word

PARTYS

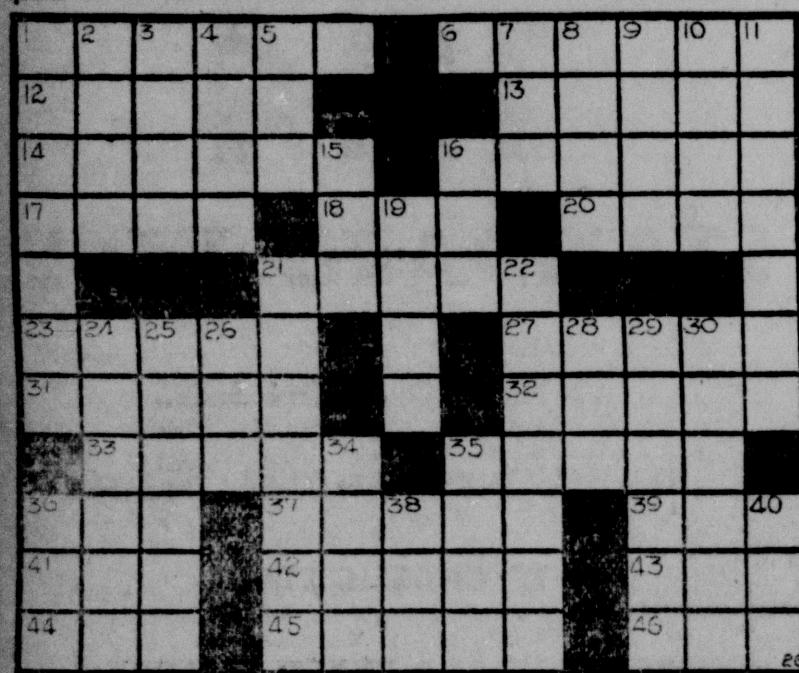

This takes dough.

There are at least four mistakes in the above picture. They may pertain to grammar, history, etiquette, drawing or whatnot. See if you can find them. Then look at the scrambled word below—and unscramble it, by switching the letters around. Grade yourself 20 for each of the mistakes you find, and 20 for the word if you unscramble it. Tomorrow we'll explain the mistake and tell you the word. Then you can see how near a hundred you bat.

Army Doctor Held as Wife Slayer

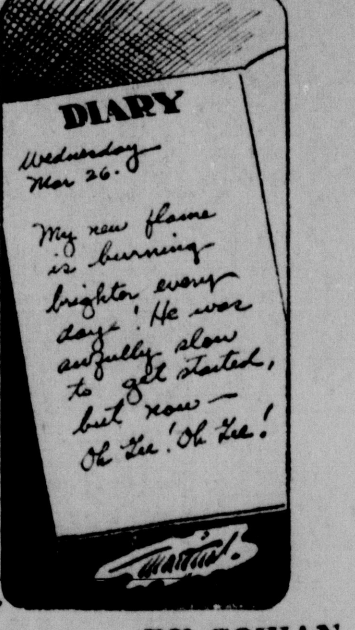

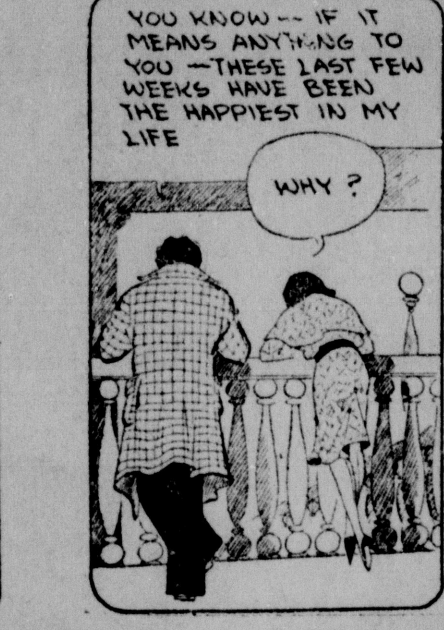

Major Charles A. Shepard, left, 59-year-old army surgeon, jailed at Denver, faces charges at Topeka, Kan., of fatally poisoning his wife last June. A statement attributed to Grace Brandon, right, stenographer at Brooks Field, San Antonio, Tex., that Major Shepard proposed marriage to her prior to his wife's death is said to have been one of the reasons for the investigation.

Murder Backstairs

©1930 by NEA SERVICE INC. FICTION by ANNE AUSTIN AUTHOR OF "THE AVENTING PARROT" "THE BLACK PIGEON," ETC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DORIS MATTHEWS, lady's maid, is murdered Friday night in a summerhouse on the Berkeley estate, by blow from heavy perfume flask, given MRS. GEORGE BERKELEY by SEYMOUR CROSBY, engaged to CLORINDA BERKELEY. The body, rock-weighted and tied with string, is taken from the lake Saturday morning by DETECTIVE DUNDEE, who summons CAPTAIN STRAWN.

Involved are Mrs. Berkeley, the fouged print of Doris's mouth found on bathroom mirror, proving the maid had been there late and that a struggle had taken place; DICK BERKELEY, infuriated with Doris, and missing from his room all night; GEORGE BERKELEY, opposed to Clorinda's engagement to Crosby, introduced by MRS. LAMBERT, social secretary; WICKETT, butler, who placed perfume flask in Mrs. Berkeley's bathroom; Clorinda Berkeley, who admits having been in summerhouse about midnight after crime was committed, which she says accounts for perfume on her slipper soles and blood on evening cape; GIGI BERKELEY, who applied every drop of perfume to Doris with perfume from murder flask, and who says she saw Doris crying and talking with Crosby after 11.

EUGENE ARNOLD, Doris's fiance, who says he left note for Doris, breaking appointment in summerhouse and who supplies alibi; says he saw man leaving grounds at midnight; and JOHN MAXWELL, former auditor of Clorinda, believed to have been with her.

Strawn and Dundee question servants, then go to Doris's room, where they find and make up letter to her sister throwing startling new light on the case, involving SEYMOUR CROSBY, her former lover.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXVI

At first glance, Dundee was afraid that the remainder of Doris Matthews' letter to her sister contained nothing of importance, insofar as the solving of her murder was concerned. Then he uttered a sharp exclamation, and began to re-read the delicate script as slowly and painstakingly as Captain Strawn, whose grim lips formed the words without uttering them.

"But I can't wait any longer to tell you the biggest news of all," Doris's letter continued. "I am engaged to be married! Yes, I mean it this time, with all my heart! The man is Eugene Arnold, the Berkeley chauffeur. I think I mentioned him in my last letter. And oh, Kathy, I do love him so! He's a red-headed, hot-tempered scallawag, but I could die of joy when he holds me in his arms. He's ambitious, too, even more so than I. He's saved up a lot of money to open what the Americans call a 'filling station,' where cars get their petrol, you know, and after we're married I'm going to have a tiny beauty shop of my own. I shall always be grateful to my dear Miss Phyllis for having had me taught the profession. It will take buckets of money, of course, but I know where I can get all or more than I need. Yes, you've probably guessed right, but you mustn't get the wind up. There's no danger of my—

"Later, remembered it was getting late and settled off to do my last-minute chores, and I've got to dash now to keep a date with Mr. Gene, but Kathy, I must tell you I've seen and talked with Mr. Crosby! I don't dare write exactly what he said and what I said, even to you, but he gave me—"

"Because I think 'the butler' was Wickett," Dundee obliged quietly. "And I'd rather like to ask him a few questions."

"That's easy," and Strawn marched to the door, to give the order to Detective Wilkins, still on duty in the third floor hall.

Strawn returned to his clippings and Dundee continued his search of the room, his object now being the key to the back door which Wickett had lent to the girl. In her handkerchief box he found a savings bank book, crediting her with $357.42. Certainly not a very big nest egg with which to start a beauty shop, Dundee reflected. But her letter to Kathy had hinted at a way to augment the sum materially. What way? An ugly word insinuated itself into Dundee's mind, but he dismissed it almost

The letter ended here, the pen having left a jagged, sputtery line, as if the writer had been startled from her task.

"That's when Mrs. Berkeley called her over the house telephone," Strawn deduced. He sat down heavily on the immaculate little green bed and ejaculated "Well!" helplessly.

DUNDEE shuffled the sheets, frowning at a line here and a line there. "Like most letters, it's cryptic in spots, darned cryptic, but—"

"But it gives us what we've been looking for in this confounded case—a motive," Strawn pointed out.

"A motive pointing to one person, while all our actual facts point to others," Dundee retorted.

"Give me a good motive and I'll find facts to go with it," Strawn promised grimly. "Let me see those newspaper clippings on the Crosby case."

While the older detective studied the clippings with painstaking thoroughness, Dundee wandered about the murdered girl's room, prying reluctantly into table and dresser drawers.

In the table drawer he found something which interested him mightily. It was an enlarged snapshot of a tea-table group in a garden. Slightly in the background, looking very much the butler, was Wickett. Seated at the little wicker table were Seymour Crosby and a very beautiful girl, whose dark curls were blown charmingly about a piquant, wistfully smiling face, Doris's adored "Miss Phyllis," doubtless. And standing by the tea-table, holding up a little Pekinese dog to be fed by Mrs. Crosby, was Doris herself, the sun making an aureole about her lovely little blond head. In very small "printing" was the inscription:

"For my dear little Doris, with love, Phyllis Benham Crosby, May 1, '28."

"What was the date of Phyllis Crosby's death, Chief?" Dundee asked.

"Sunday night, May 6," Strawn answered, after referring to the first clipping of the bunch he was reading.

"Is Wickett mentioned in the newspaper story?" Dundee asked.

"No, but there are several references to 'the butler,'" Strawn replied. "Why?"

"Because I think 'the butler' was Wickett," Dundee obliged quietly. "And I'd rather like to ask him a few questions."

"That's easy," and Strawn marched to the door, to give the order to Detective Wilkins, still on duty in the third floor hall.

Strawn returned to his clippings and Dundee continued his search of the room, his object now being the key to the back door which Wickett had lent to the girl. In her handkerchief box he found a savings bank book, crediting her with $357.42. Certainly not a very big nest egg with which to start a beauty shop, Dundee reflected. "Later, remembered it was getting late and settled off to do my last-minute chores, and I've got to dash now to keep a date with Mr. Gene, but Kathy, I must tell you I've seen and talked with Mr. Crosby! I don't dare write exactly what he said and what I said, even to you, but he gave me—" angrily. Not here, in this little room she had worked so hard to make attractive, could the susceptible young detective associate the word blackmail with Doris Matthews.

ON the dresser, between precisely placed green glass candlesticks holding golden-yellow tapers, sat a square-cut, rather expensive bottle of perfume.

"And Doris didn't like perfume," Dundee reminded himself thoughtfully.

"Here's the key, Chief!" he cried at last. "In the pocket of her top-coat. Not the key to her own door, certainly, for that's on the inside of the lock now."

"In her coat, eh?" Strawn frowned. "That means she intended to wear the coat when she went to meet Arnold—"

"And that when she did so, she rushed out in too great a hurry to bother about coat or key," Dundee finished his chief's sentence. "Here's something else, too!" And he untied a handkerchief, knotted about a pair of beautifully mounted sapphire earrings.

There was a knock at the door and in another minute Wickett was standing at attention.

"Is this the key you lent to Doris, Wickett?" Dundee asked.

"Yes, sir."

"Do you recognize these earrings, Wickett?"

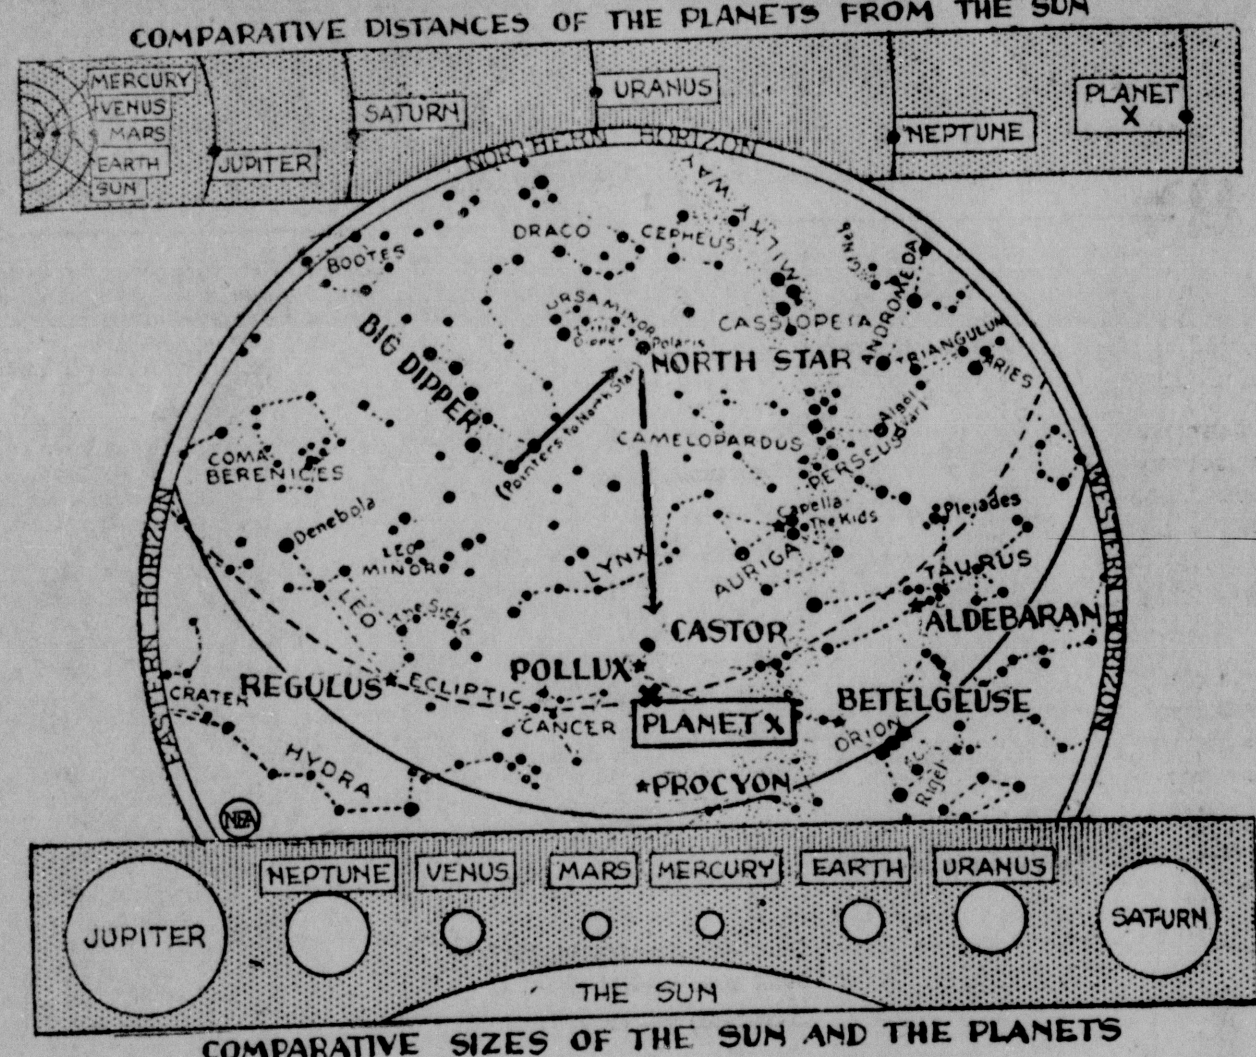

The butler's eyes widened as they took in the expensive ornaments, but he answered guardedly: "I can't say positively, sir. I have seen earrings which resembled them."

Amateur Star Gazers, Here's Your Chart

Here's a "road map" of the March skies that points the way to the location of the new "Planet X." Begin with the Big Dipper (that's familiar to all) follow the arrow to the North Star, and then come due south to the two bright stars almost directly overhead, Castor and Pollux. Just south of them, and slightly west, is the new planet, although it's too faint to be seen with the naked eye. This observation should be made at 8 P. M., local time. To get the real effect of the chart, hold it directly over your head and look upward at it.

on business Thursday morning.
Mr. and Mrs. Harry Joynt and family of Dixon spent Thursday evening here at the Thos. Lepper home.
Hank Ullrich was a business caller in Dixon Thursday.
Miss Frances Lepper spent Thursday afternoon in Dixon visiting with her friend, Miss Evelyn Bryan.
Gardner Cook of Seward, who is a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Lee county, was electioneering in this vicinity Thursday.
Charles Buckley and Thomas Lep-per were transacting business in Dixon Thursday afternoon.
The charges preferred against J.
M. Lovett by Officer Wayne Smith were dismissed Thursday morning.
Jaunita Donaldson entertained the members of her Sunday school class at her home Friday afternoon.
A man and his wife put on a free
show on the street Thursday night.
It was a novelty showing their super strength, such as bending spikes and pulling automobiles with their teeth, raising weights and bending buggy spokes. One of the most daring acts of the evening was when the man, lying flat on the pavement, allowed a car to run over the middle of his body.
Gerald Jones of Dixon was here
Friday, taking the government census of the business houses.
Dean Finch, Robert Reinboth and Sheldon Zeigler, all of whom attend the University of Illinois, spent the week end here visiting their parents.
The boxing show sponsored by the American Legion in the Opera House
Thursday night was well attended.
The interest in this sport is rapidly increasing in this vicinity, and it is possible that similar events will be presented in the near future.
John Buckley was a business caller

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Love is the fulfilling of the law.-
Romans 8:10.
Love is but another name for that incurable presence by which the soul is connected with humanity.-
Simms.

NAME RACKET NIPPED

Madison Wis.-UP)-Charitably inclined doctors of Norwegian decent were safe today from the racketeering of Carl Larson alias the name of any intended victim.
Larson began a year's sentence in Dane county jail. The method of the offender was to approach a physician using the same name as that of his victim and after expressing belief that they were distant relatives obtain a small loan. The scheme worked well in Wisconsin until he tried it on a brother and a son of Sheriff Harold Smedal.

DIET OF NAILS FATAL

Marion, Ohio-(UP)-The diet of nails, stones and wire was too much for a cow on the Wagner farm, near here. The postmortem investigation conducted, revealed a balanced ration of small stones, shingle nails and fence wire.

BOILED CABBAGE
AND BEANS CAUSE
NO PAINS NOW

Westville Truck Farmer Eats
What He Likes Now-
Thanks to Kavatoe.

To suffer agonizing pains after eating and to be afraid to eat what you like for fear of the after effects is certainly not what you want.
And when you consider a condition existing for more than 25 years it becomes apparent why people like Thomas Keel, well known truck farmer living at Westville, Indiana, has such high praise for a preparation that removes that condition.

THOMAS KEEL.

Kavatoe is made from a combination of roots, herbs, barks and blossoms and because of the manner in which it is made and the nature of its ingredients it goes to the very spot and source of ills and ailments incident to the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels such as rheumatism, neuritis, constipation, nervousness
and such like ailments.
In a recent call upon the Kavatone Man, Mr. Keel said: "For the past 25 years you might say, I have been bothered by a bad stomach condition and my liver did not function properly. The condition became gradually worse and during the past six years my tongue was heavily coated most of the time and I would suffer such dizzy spells that at times it almost seemed to me I would never be able to see again. Neuritis also developed in my shoulder and I got so I could not even put on my coat without terrible pain. My condition had become so bad that I was not very confident of any medicine being able to relieve me. I had heard so much about Kavatoe, though, that I decided I would give it a trial anyway.
"To my amazement before I had taken all of the first bottle I began to feel better. To begin with, the after-eating pains began to disappear from my stomach and I found I could eat things I had not been able to eat for years such as boiled cabbage and beans, of which I am very fond. Also I found I could sleep all night without getting up and that I felt much more rested and refreshed after I got up than I had before I started taking Kavatoe. By the time I had taken two bottles of Kavatoe my condition was so much improved that I actually felt like a different person and now I am keeping right on and I feel sure it will straighten out all my health troubles."
The Kavatoe Man is located at FORD HOPKINS CO., DIXON, ILL., where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this great preparation. The Kavatoe Man is at the store to be of service to you in any way that he can. So feel free to call at the store, get acquainted with him and see the unique and most interesting Kavatoe demonstration-Adv.

How many
RED TOP STEEL POSTS
will you need this season?

YOU can get many extra years of service from your standing fence lines if you will remove each year rotting wood posts and replace them with Red Tops. In this way, by degrees and with the outlay of but little money at any one time, you can give your fence lines an entirely new foundation-get more years of service from the fencing. Then when new wire is needed your permanent Red Top Fence Posts are already in place.
Right now is a good time to check your fence lines. Count up the number of Red Tops you will need for replacements. Include the number you will need for the new boundary and cross fences that you plan to build and add to the list several extra bundles of Red Tops to keep handy on the farm-for emergency fence repairs and for the movable or temporary fence that you will want to throw up in a hurry
throughout the season.

This trend to EIGHTS is a trend to HUDSON

The wide, new interest in 8-cylinder cars is another tribute to Hudson leadership.
For it sweeps aside the barrier of high premium on eight-cylinder quality. It establishes in this field a new scale of low ownership costs-in price, in operation and in maintenance. It is ruggedly built for long-lasting reliability.
That is why you find thousands of former "Six" owners enjoying its distinction and brilliant performance with better economy than they ever knew. It is why long-time eight-cylinder buyers are turning in great number to the advantages of Hudson's exclusive new type.
It is why this trend, which you see, toward "Eights", is really the public acclaim of Hudson's Great-8.
Come see, and ride in the most modern and advanced of Eights. From whatever viewpoint you regard car ownership-whether rich appearance, distinguished performance or pride of possession-it questions the wisdom of ever paying more for any car.
